Policy Context:
NI Government: aims for education

- Development of young person’s personal and social attributes and capacities
- Ensuring that in NI, we have people with right skills at the right level to sustain and develop our economy - and within a global economy
- Contribution to the social and political harmony within NI
Key Policy Response (i)
Revised Northern Ireland Curriculum

- Set within a curriculum and skills framework (rather than detailed programmes of study)
- Flexibility to customise learning
- Focus on the learning needs of individuals
- Focus on relevance of learning for life, work, society, the economy and the environment
- Emphasis on development of creativity and the skills to manage information, problem-solve and make decisions
Key Policy response (ii)
Literacy and Numeracy Strategy

• Child –centred provision – raising levels of attainment for all

• High quality teaching and learning
  – Narrowing gap between highest and lowest performing pupils and schools
  – Balance between whole-class teaching and needs of individuals
  – Addressing under-achievement
  – Providing additional support for pupils (Linked to progressive stages set out in Special Education Needs strategy)
  – Providing additional support for pupils

• Effective leadership

• A school connected to its local community
Key Policy Response (iii)
Every School a Good School

- Leadership and an ethos of aspiration
- Supporting and facilitating high quality teaching
- A focus on tackling barriers to learning
- A culture of self-evaluation and self-improvement including focus on literacy and numeracy and making effective use of data
- A readiness to provide support to deliver improvement or where, necessary to challenge a school’s provision (special measures programme)
- Engagement between schools and the parents, families and communities they serve
Key Policy Response (iv)
Review of Special Educational Needs and Inclusion

• An overarching inclusive framework aimed at raising standards and outcomes for all

• An inclusive model of a continuum of quality provision for a diversity of need, in different settings

• Reduction or removal of barriers to learning faced by some children

• Focus on early identification and intervention - putting in place the right support at the right time
Review of Special Educational Needs and Inclusion continued.

- Pre-school SEN assessment and provision
- Enhanced role of schools - mainstream and special
- Dissemination of existing good practice and collaborative working
- Improved multi-disciplinary /multi-agency working
- Arrangements for funding, outcomes, and accountability
Key Policy Response (v)
Teacher Education Review

Key issues

• The competence framework

• The role and remit of initial teacher education

• Teacher supply and teacher demand

• Review of effectiveness of progression across the stages of initial teacher education, early professional development and continuing professional development

• Ensure teacher education best meets needs of schools and teachers

• Provide ESA with key leadership role in teacher education

• Ensure that all T.Ed. reflects competences and values set out by GTCNI

• Improve partnership and collaboration across whole T.Ed. process

- At all stages in T.Ed, focus more closely on best practice pedagogies incl. challenges of SEN
- Respond to ETI findings and other government priorities
- Provide for improvements in professional development of school leaders
- Development of a better value money teacher workforce planning model
Ahead of us the sky’s a geyser now
A calm voice talks of cloud yet we feel lost
Air-pockets jolt our fears and down we go.
Travellers, at this point, can only trust.
