Barriers our students have encountered

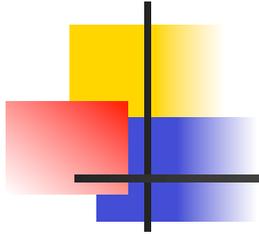

- Self confidence, self esteem, self belief
- Lack of previous formal qualifications
- Childcare
- Caring duties
- Financial – e.g. loss of a job, cost of travel
- Literacy and/or under education
- Mental Health Issues, e.g. anxiety, support from family and friends
- Understanding the system, e.g. what is CAO?
- Basic organisational & study skills
- Learning Support Needs

The Challenge

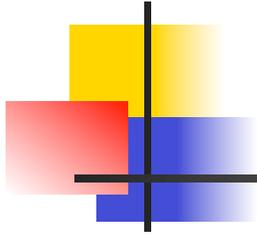

“Put simply, we want to avoid a viewpoint which locates the difficulty or deficit with the student and focus instead on the capacity of the educational institution to understand and respond to the individual learner’s requirements. This means that we must move away from labelling the student and towards creating an appropriate educational environment; concentrate on understanding better how people learn so that they can be helped to learn; and see people with disabilities and/or learning difficulties first and foremost as learners.”

Tomlinson Report, 1996

In other words...

If students can't learn from the way we teach then we must teach in a way that students learn!

Inclusive Education

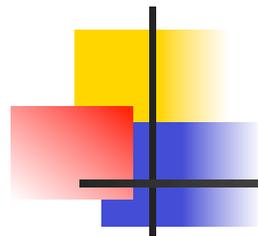

Inclusive education is about improving the quality of learning for all students by dealing with all barriers to accessing, participating and succeeding in learning, whoever experiences them and wherever they are located throughout all aspects of the college – our culture, policies and practices.

(Ainscow and Booth, 2002)
